Carrying the News of Independence

On an eminence in Westchester County, N. Y., overlooking the Hudson River, stood the manor house of the Van Deeks. The 6th of July, 1776, a dozen crimson coated men rode up to the gate, and an officer, alighting, lifted the latch and hurried over the grass to the house. Without touching the brass knocker on the door he entered, and there in the great hall sat a young girl at a spinning wheel.

"Good morrow," said the officer. "I believe this is the farm of Varick Van Deek. Am I rightly informed?"

"You are!" the girl said and dropped a courtesy.

"And you are—"

"Dorothy Van Deek, at your service."

"I would speak with your father!"

"He is not at home. No one is at home but myself. They are all gone for the day to Tarrytown."

"That I regret. I have a disagreeable duty to perform. It is reported that a man bearing a dispatch from the rebel congress to New England is hiding in this place and I have orders to make a search!"

"That you are welcome to do, sir, and when you have satisfied yourself you will do me the honor to accept of some refreshment."

"You render my duty doubly disagreeable. I beg of you make it unnecessary by giving me your word that the man is not here."

"That I will not. Any one may secrete himself in the barn or the coach house and I do not know it. You can see for yourself that no one is in this hall. Search every other cranny."

Lieutenant Trelawney ordered a sergeant to search the house and the others to search the place. No one was found. Trelawney did not relish leaving the company of so pretty and amiable a person as Mistress Dorothy Van Deek, but he had been ordered to find Martin Crane, who was suspected of being a messenger from the Continental Congress at Philadelphia. Crane had been tracked to the neighborhood by a body of British scouts.

"I wish, Mistress Van Deek," he said, "that I could avail myself of your kind invitation." He turned his eyes to the great clock that stood in the hall. "A quarter past ten. I am expected to join the troop at Spuyten Duyvil at twelve."

Dorothy looked down at the floor and said nothing. The officer had hoped to be urged. Nevertheless he made a virtue of necessity and resolved to stay without urging. Going to the door, he ordered his men to continue the search along the route under the sergeant.

"They had no sooner gone than Dorothy changed her manner. Spreading a dainty white cloth on a table, she brought out the best there was in the house, including a decanter of old Madeira. Then, drawing oaken chairs, she invited the lieutenant to be seated. After serving him she sat down merely to keep him company.

"Your sword is in your way," she said. "Pray let me take it."

"The officer looked up, a tinge of suspicion in his glance.

"Do you need it to protect yourself against a woman?"

Gallantly he unclasped his belt, on which were hung his sword and pistol, and handed them all to Dorothy, who, not finding anything in the hall on which to place them, carried them into the sitting room. Then she returned to the table.

Presently Trelawney started. He glanced at the clock. It was still half past ten.

"Why, your clock has stopped!" he said, taking out his watch. "Great heavens, it is 12 o'clock! I was ordered to return at 12."

"That it now impossible. You may as well stay longer."

"By no means. I must go at once. But before I do so I will wind your clock for you and set it."

"Oh, no," said Dorothy, paling. "It is an old wornout affair. Let it alone."

"Is it possible that there is something—some one concealed there? You said there was no one here."

"I said you could see for yourself."

The officer stood irresolute. Duty compelled him to examine the clock; gallantry and inclination forbade it. Suddenly the clock door opened and a young man, the counterpart of Dorothy Van Deek, stepped forth. In his hand was a cocked pistol.

"Put up your weapon, Harry," cried Dorothy. "I have promised Lieutenant Trelawney that he shall have no use for his."

"There is no occasion for either of us to use a weapon," said Henry Van Deek.

"This is my brother," said Dorothy to Trelawney.

"That I regret," replied Trelawney, "for he is my prisoner."

Van Deek smiled. "It seems that you are my prisoner," he said.

Then for the first time Trelawney remembered that he was without his weapons. "I surrender to your sister," he replied with a touch of reproach in his tone.

"I did not intend to place you at a disadvantage," said Dorothy. "I only sought my brother's safety."

"You are free to go your way," said Henry. "I only exact one condition."

"Name it."

"That you give me your word not to take advantage of this meeting to my detriment."

"I consent to your terms," replied Trelawney.

"And I exact one condition," said Dorothy. "That you drink in a parting glass with us to the United States of America."

"There is no such land," said Trelawney.

"There is," said Van Deek. "It was born the day before yesterday. I am bearer of the news.—Archibald James."

TORONTO TIDINGS

Miss Ada James, of the Belleville school teaching staff, was a visitor in our midst over the week-end of June 7th.

We all sympathize with Mr. Alex. B. McCaul in the death of his second oldest sister, Mrs. John Graydon, of New Toronto, who passed into the Sunlight of the Blest on June 3d, in her fifty-fifth year. She was known among the deaf as Gertrude McCaul, and had been in delicate health for many years. Her remains were laid to rest in Parklawn Cemetery on June 6th.

Mr. Daniel W. Fleming, who returned home from California some time ago, remained in this city for almost a week, before proceeding on June 9th, to his old home in Craigleith. All here were delighted to meet him again.

Mr. Norman Collette, who had been a student at the Belleville school all last term, and was suddenly called to his home here early in May, owing to the illness and subsequent death of a sister, did not go back to school again. He is now working here and lives on Daisy Avenue, in the Lambton district. We sympathize with him in his heavy loss.

Our Women's Association held a social at the church on June 7th, that was a fairly good success. It was intended to hold it out on the church lawn, but the weatherman frowned on this with a somewhat chilly mood that forced all to seek the warmth of the gym. Here they stayed an evening of fun for all. Mrs. Lown, whose daughter was at the Belleville school at the time, and who takes a warm interest in the deaf, added materially to the success of the evening's entertainment by bringing up her class of Sunday School girls to give an exhibition of physical drill and other evolutions that greatly thrilled all. The proceeds amounted to about twenty-two dollars.

Miss Helen Middleton, of Niagara Falls, who had been holidaying at her parental home in Horning Mills for a few weeks past, owing to the breakdown of a water gauge at the plant where she is employed, was summoned back to work by the firm on June 10th.

On Saturday, June 7th, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grooms motored down to Hampton, and picking up some relatives, continued on to Colborne, where they visited with friends, returning to the city the same evening. Next morning the Grooms, with Messrs. Charles Elliott and William Hazlitt as passengers, motored up to Gravenhurst to see Mrs. William Hazlitt, whom they found doing splendid. On the way up they made a brief stop over in Barrie to see Mr. and Mrs. Uresen Johnston, and at Gravenhurst they were surprised yet pleased to meet Mr.

and Mrs. George A. Dickson, who had motored in from Fraserburg for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell were up from Oshawa, on June 11th, taking in the big Shriners' doings on that day.

Miss Pearl Herman returned home with them, where she will spend her three-weeks holidays.

Mr. Norman Gleadow, of Hamilton, had charge of our service here on June 8th, and gave one of the finest sermons we have had the pleasure of enjoying for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Buchan returned from their holidays on June 5th, looking fine and weather-beaten. Little Alex looks so full of life and as fat as a pumpkin as he scrambled around in childish glee. Mr. Buchan resumed his duties at the post-office on June 9th.

Our Women's Association entertained the Board of Trustees and a few other members of our church to a pleasant get-together social on June 13th, and a nice evening was enjoyed by all.

Miss Gladys Blais left on June 14th, for a few weeks holidays with relatives and friends down in Ottawa, Montreal and other parts of the east.

We were pleased to see Messrs. Charles A. Ryan, of Woodstock, Geo. R. Munro, Geo. Bell and Carl Eames, of St. Thomas, at our church on June 15th, having motored down here that day, leaving for home the same evening.

Platform convenor Roberts has arranged with those who come in from outside stations, to lead one of our Sunday School classes the same morning of the day they come to speak at our church service. Such a change may lend encouragement to the life of our Sunday schools.

WATERLOO WEE BITS

Mr. Albert Seiss, of Pontiac, Mich., has been visiting at his sister's home for some days. Her sister, Mrs. Scharf, and the family all have our sympathy in the recent death of little Pauline Shepherd, who was knocked down and instantly killed by a L. E. & N. Radial car—bound for Preston. While out playing with her dolly, she was too close to the tracks when the sad mishap happened on Monday, June 9th, and the funeral took place Thursday the 12th.

While in the Twin City, Mr. Seiss called to see Mr. and Mrs. Newton Black, and at Mrs. Black's suggestion they drove to Waterloo, and picking up Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moynihan, went on and called on Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Martin spent a recent week-end in Toronto, visiting Mrs. Martin's sister, Mrs. Charles Roberts, who gave birth on June 2d, to her fourth child, a daughter, Kathleen Margaret Gertrude, named after the baby's mother's mother and sisters.

Mrs. Newton Black went out and had tea with Mrs. Ida Cherry Robertson in Preston one day recently.

Mrs. Ida C. Robertson is so much improved now that she was able to come, and spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Black recently.

Mr. John Forsythe, of Elmira, has returned home from St. Mary's Hospital in Kitchener, where he was a patient for three weeks. Mr. Forsythe wishes to thank his many Waterloo County deaf friends for their frequent and pleasant calls upon him.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

"Silent Villa," the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew S. Waggoner, was the scene of a happy banquet-like gathering on June 7th, when the popular host and hostess invited for tea Mrs. Walter Miles, of Mount Hamilton and other friends, and afterwards presented this beloved Mrs. Miles with a beautiful chateau bag of exquisite shape, size and charm, as a gift from about fifteen of her admiring friends as a slight token of their great esteem for her.

In spite of a cloudy sky and a chilly atmosphere, the picnic, held on May 24th, on the mountain brow, was a very delightful affair, in which all made merry in various ways, plus a tableload of eatables, fit for a king. The fun was kept up until dusk, when bedlam went loose on the rampart with fireworks galore in old time rivalry that was a cinch in the hearts of the youngsters, whose pent-up noises added to the din of the evening until sheer exhaustion forced all to seek the solacing arms of Morpheus.

LONDON LEAVES

On May 31st, the London Association of the Deaf, assembled at the Y. M. C. A., to discuss arrangements and data for our forthcoming picnic on Labor Day. It was a very large and representative gathering, with many from St. Thomas and nearby centres, whose cooperation in our efforts is deeply appreciated. It was certainly an enthusiastic meeting, with the deepest interest manifested throughout. Mr. George R. Munroe, of St. Thomas, and Mrs. John F. Fisher, of this city, were chosen chairman and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Every one expects to hustle and make this coming big picnic an unqualified success. We assure one and all, that our annual picnic will be held on Labor Day in the beautiful and spacious park at Springfield, just beyond the western outskirts of this city, whether rain or shine. We never attempt to make money, but try to do our best to please all at such a gathering, so be sure and come and enjoy yourselves to the limit. We are pleased to state that Mr. John T. Shilton, of Toronto, has accepted our invitation of taking charge of the service at the Y. M. C. A., on August 31st, the day preceding our picnic. Reports concerning the activities of the picnic committee may appear from time to time in the JOURNAL.

It is only a short time ago since the Chatham Branch of the Ontario Mission was opened, and at that time the prospects were not so rosy, yet the county convenor, J. R. Byrne, and his co-workers were very optimistic and decided to "push on." The second gathering was held on June 8th, with Mr. John Fisher, of this city, in charge. On this occasion nearly forty of our friends from Detroit, London, St. Thomas, Windsor and other points far and near, as well as those living in Chatham and vicinity, swarmed to this gathering in the Park Street United Church of Chatham, which was kindly placed at the disposal of our friends by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Robinson, who opened the meeting with prayer and with an address of welcome in the warmest strains. Mr. Fisher then gave a powerful and sweeping address on the subject: "Behold I stand at the door and knock. What will you do with Me?"

WOODSTOCK WHISPERS

All the deaf of this city are steadily working, with the exception of Mr. Ben. Cone, whose line of employment, painting, is not very brisk just now.

Our sympathy is extended to Miss Jennie Broom upon the death of her brother, Mr. John Scott, who answered the Supreme Call in Toronto on June 8th. His remains were brought up and interred in this city's cemetery on June 10th.

The first re-opening meeting of the Woodstock Branch of the Ontario Mission, since it closed here many years ago, took place on June 8th, at our Y. M. C. A., and was a pronounced success in every way, and we hope will augur well for the future, as the deaf here intend maintaining it until October, and will meet on the first or second Sunday of each month. To Mr. Howard J. Lloyd, of Brantford, fell the honor of giving the re-opening sermon and in his accustomed way, gave a very masterful sermon on "The Shadows of the Cross." Mrs. Lloyd charmingly rendered a beautiful hymn. Upwards of twenty-one of our deaf friends, the largest assembly of the deaf ever to gather here, were on hand, and among them we noticed Mr. and Mrs. James P. Orr, of Milverton, who came the greatest distance. This happy couple are invariably at many such gatherings, thus breeding a good and noble example. Others who were here were Messrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., George Moore and John Reynolds, of London. All were surprised to see Mr. Reynolds, who lately sold his farm at Clinton, and is now living in London. It was years since many saw him last.

LONG BRANCH LOCALS

Mrs. George J. Timpson attended the funeral of the late Mr. Wiltshire in Toronto, who died on May 25th. He was the father of one of Mrs. Timpson's bosom friends.

Mrs. Percy Kintree, of Toronto, has been houseworker for Mrs. J. S. Bartley the past few weeks. She expects to leave early in July, and join her husband in Owen Sound, who has been up there since early in May.

On June 22d, Mr. William Ormiston, of Raglan, motored up to his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Timpson, for a visit, then took Mrs. Timpson, her two youngest sons and her mother, Mrs. Charles McLaren, for a motor ride to Raglan for the Victoria Day holidays, where they had a fine time.

Mrs. Roy Baker and children have again moved back, to live with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bartley.

Mr. H. W. Roberts, of Toronto, paid another of his periodical visits to this town on June 15th, and had dinner with the McLaren and Timpson families, and noted a growth in the town's expansion.

On June 8th, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Timpson, with Miss Annie Urquhart and Mr. William Ormiston motored down to Raglan to visit with Mr. and Mrs. James J. Ormiston and were surprised to meet Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gerow, of Peterboro, and Messrs. Joseph and Andrew and the Misses Julia and Margaret White from Bewdley, at the Ormiston, thus making a happy gathering. After dinner the whole bunch, including the whole Ormiston family, went in a motor line to Oshawa to attend the service conducted by Mr. Fred Terrell, of Toronto, who gave a splendid sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott, who moved their residence a block from its former site last fall, are now settled in a more convenient and sublime locality, and in spite of the sickness that has followed in their wake this past winter and spring, are pushing along most splendidly.

Away back on June 5th, 1895, Mr. Charles McLaren, a graduate of the old Hamilton school, left his home in Raglan and beat it for Thornbury, where he married Miss Martha Theakston and since then have lived very happily. To this union was born an only child, Marie Hannah McLaren, who on January 18th, 1921, was happily married to Mr. George J. Timpson, then of Toronto. Later they moved to Long Branch, and through tact and industry, built a beautiful brick residence in which they now live on St. George's St. With Father Time telling on the advancing age of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Timpson decided a few years ago, to invite the McLarens to come up from Raglan and make their abode under their only child's sheltering roof, where they now live in comfort. On June 5th last, Mr. and Mrs. Timpson decided to honor their parents upon the occasion of their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary, and accomplished this with a happy gathering of their friends, both deaf and hearing, from Toronto as well as locally, and a very pleasant time had all. We hope, Mr. and Mrs. McLaren, who are now on the sunset slope of their earthly journey, may yet live to enjoy more years of God's sent blessings. Their only child, Mrs. Timpson, though not deaf, is well known to legions of the deaf, and is an expert delineator of our sign manual.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mr. and Mrs. William Riberdy, of Detroit, along with Mrs. G. Matney, motored up and spent the week-end of June 7th, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Preston and other friends in Lansing, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Crozier, of Springfield, are doing very splendidly since moving into the village from the farm and enjoy reading the JOURNAL every week.

HERBERT W. ROBERTS.

Memorial Minute

We, the members of the Women's Parish Aid Society, mourn our great loss in the passing of Miss Virginia Butler Gallaudet.

She was the founder and organizer of this Society, from which time she had been the president. Her purpose in its organization was to give aid to St. Ann's Church, which now depends largely upon the Society for church necessities.

Throughout the many years of attendance at meetings, Miss Gallaudet endeared herself to this Society by her kindness of heart, loyal comradeship and wise counsel.

Resolved, That the Women's Parish Aid Society express its faith in all the dispensations of a loving Heavenly Father, even in those which bring us deepest sorrow.

Resolved, That these resolutions be inscribed on our minutes, that a copy be sent to the immediate family of our departed friend and president, and that a copy be sent to the DEAF MUTES' JOURNAL.

SEATTLE

May 17th the Lutheran's social was enjoyed by every one. Those who carried off the prizes were Mrs. W. E. Brown, J. C. Howard, Mrs. J. Bertram, Mrs. C. Reeves, J. Adams, Mrs. V. Smith, twice, C. Reeves and the Wrights.

The three men, Mr. Brown, Frank Morrissey and M. J. Clark, were the only ones who could refrain from smiling or laughing at funny stories related by Frank Kelly. Mr. Brown won by a draw vote. The refreshments were fine and plenty. The committee was Mrs. J. Adams, Mrs. W. S. Root and Mrs. Pauline Gustin.

Claire Reeves, W. S. Root, Mrs. J. Adams and John Dortero won prizes at the Thursday socials the past three weeks.

Mrs. W. S. Root arranged a surprise birthday party at her home for Mrs. Claude, Ziegler May 24th. She was presented with some cash. The evening passed pleasantly with a game of bridge. On Sunday evening, June 1st, Mrs. Root, in turn, was greatly surprised when some friends dropped in on her for her natal day with nice and useful presents and also some cash. They brought refreshments. As usual an enjoyable time was had. A. W. Wright had his feet soaking wet, caused by a heavy downpour that afternoon, while he went to get car parked several blocks from the new Japanese liner that was open for inspection.

Frank Kelly bade goodbye to the friends at the Roots' home the evening of the Ziegler's birthday party. He went home to visit his mother in Port Angeles. The swimmer he worked for several years closed for a couple months. He will be back when it reopens.

Mr. and Mrs. Claire Reeves and J. T. Bodley attended a goodbye party for Mr. and Mrs. Will Rowland at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lorenz in Tacoma, May 25th. Mrs. Reeves and Mr. Bodley each won a prize at cootie. Twenty-two present to wish the Rowlands a pleasant safe journey to Kansas. They have purchased a new 1930 Chevrolet sedan, to drive east to visit their numerous relatives all summer.

The long advertised Tacoma party given for the benefit of the Seattle Division delegate fund drew one of the best crowds at this season of the year, considering present industrial conditions, which has slowed up trade in the sash, lumber and kindred factories, where quite a number of the deaf are employed. The affair was under the direction of Messrs. Gerson, Lowell, Waincott and Scanlon, the latter acting as master of ceremonies on the stage, and Mesdames Gerson, Lowell and Waincott giving able assistance in the culinary department. "Bunco" featured the evening's games, and was new to many of those present.

Boss Scanlon kept things moving right peppery with various small contests, and the prizes won were too numerous to keep track of. Mrs. W. S. Root and Pennock Beford, Tacoma, won the door prizes.

The hall was engaged for an all-night affair, but quite a number from Seattle, not wishing to greet the dawn sun, left for home between two and three in the morning.

Messrs. Wondrack, Sanders, Thayer and Hummel, were long distance visitors, driving up from Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Emerick, from Aberdeen; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Oliver and Mr. Fischer, from Everett. The Seattle crowd numbered about twenty. A neat sum was turned into the fund.

Before going to this party, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root, Mrs. W. E. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright called on A. J. Key in Tacoma. Mr. Key, who has been very ill for nine weeks, was up and comfortably seated. He expects to undergo an operation presently.

John Bertram received $250 for the injuries he suffered when an automobile hit his motorcycle. After paying expenses he had about $100 left as salvage for his pain.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bertram drove to Portland in their Studebaker coupe, May 29th, for a three-days' outing.

Miss Mary Main, a graduate of the Vancouver school, is in Seattle for a while. She is a charming bright young lady.

Milo Root, the twelve-year-old boy, won a second cash award for the best write-up in the magazine contest the other day. Another bright child of deaf parents.

Ed Spieler writes to Rev. G. W. Gaertner and several others that he and his wife are settled at Alameda. Mrs. Spieler secured work in Oakland as a candler with an egg company.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ward, of Portland, sent word that they were the parents of twins on Decoration Day. They are a girl and a boy. Mrs. Ward will be remembered as one of the charming Scott sisters, of Kirkland and Massachusetts.

Mrs. Emily Eaton spent four days in Tacoma last week. She was the week-end guest of Miss Mabel Slegel. They were schoolmates long ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hale and little daughter, of Tacoma, spent a couple weeks with relatives in Walla Walla recently.

Mrs. E. Frederickson gave a birthday party for Arthur Fischer at her home in Everett May 11th. A luncheon of baked beans, buns, salad, cake and coffee was enjoyed by those who attended.

A few weeks ago, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fredrickson, little sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pierson, of Everett, with Mr. and Mrs. George Axt, Seattle, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Block, who live between Monroe and Sulton. The Blocks recently moved here from Kansas. They have four children between four and eighteen years old. The oldest daughter drove most of the way. Mr. and Mrs. Block are very pleased with the climate and may remain in the west.

Prof. and Mrs. W. S. Hunter and two sons are preparing to spend their vacation at their summer home on Lake Sutherland, where they have their own fine camp.

PUGET SOUND.

June 3, 1930.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.

This city officially goes on daylight saving time from June 15th to August 31st, while Johnson City and Endicott will remain on standard time. It seemed that it would entail an amount of confusion between Binghamton and Johnson City and Endicott. A majority of the workers in the Endicott & Johnson plants had voted against the proposal and many of them reside in Binghamton. The deaf workers living the city will continue on standard time.

On May 30th, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hutton motored to Newburgh, where they enjoyed visiting her schoolmate, Mrs. Norman, and then to the Gallaudet Home. They met some of their old friends whom they knew at the Fanwood school. On the way home, they motored through the beautiful scenery along the Hudson River.

The banquet held at the room of the M. E. Church by the Silent Workers Club, was excellently managed by Mrs. William Anderson, of Endicott. It proved a fine success. It was well attended. Mr. Elery Race saluted with welcome to Rev. Mr. Bell, who made some interesting remarks. Mrs. Margaret Briggs interpreted for the members, Mr. Arthur Austin (hearing), whose parents are deaf-mutes, spoke well in the sign-language. Mr. Stafford, of Oxford, N. Y., and Mrs. Smith Austin, of Johnson City, N. Y., (nee Misses Lantz and Elsie Howe, ex-Fanwoodites), gracefully recited together the poem "America" in signs. Mrs. Ninto did some poems well, too. Mr. Race gestulated clearly in signs a poetical piece. Supper was splendidly served.

June 27th a box social will be held at the home of Mrs. Lewis Garbett in Chenango Bridge, N. Y., six miles from here. Refreshments will be brought.

The big picnic of the club will be held some time in July outside Binghamton.

Mr. Robert Hogan, who has been suffering with rupture for a long time, is not much better, and says he needs an operation, unless he feels any better. We hope that he will regain better health.

Mr. Willets, who has given up his job as an agent, just got a better one at the Hotel Arlington here.

It is Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. King's turn to give the members a card party at their home June 25th, as all of the members take each other's places alternately.

Mr. and Mrs. Ninto, after enjoying the auto trip to Philadelphia, came back home last month.

THE profession of educating the deaf will be astounded to learn that Wirt A. Scott, M.A., Superintendent of the Mississippi Institution at Jackson, is to be displaced as superintendent by a country doctor, named Stone, in September of this year. The school is well organized and running smoothly, which will make it possible for the new man to get by with the job, but apparent success will not demonstrate personal fitness of any incumbent, but rather perfection in the organization of the predecessor. It is pretty well known that Wirt A. Scott, M. A., ranks high in the profession, and what is more, he has a perfect understanding of the deaf. His loss will be a calamity to the school. His experience as a teacher and as superintendent of an Institution for twelve years or over, should favor his retention.

The Mississippi Institution at Jackson has always been a "combined" school—that is, it has given instruction in speech and lip-reading and imparted an elementary education to all the pupils by methods best adapted to their mentality.

The school buildings and grounds are valued at $270,000, and the number of pupils reaches an average attendance of 240. It is a State school, and as such, appointments to office are made by the Governor of Mississippi. The appointment of any man to the superintendency should involve the possession of a thorough understanding of the educational needs of deaf children, and not considered solely from the standpoint of political expediency.

THE Senior number of the Buff and Blue, published by students of Gallaudet College at Washington, D. C., is a finely illustrated year book, with group pictures of faculty, athletic teams, societies, and individual half-tones of each of the graduation class. There is the usual class history, prophecy, etc. The treasurer of the Edward Miner Gallaudet Memorial, Prof. Harley D. Drake, reports that the total amount of contributions is $46,239.61, and the Interior Department has favored a grant of $160,000 to be submitted to Congress at the next session. The Senior Number is printed on fine coated paper and includes about ninety pages of literary effort that might be considered as both witty and wise.

Four Oil Wells To Be Drilled On Deaf School Land

SANTA FE, April 24.—Four oil wells are to be drilled on lands granted to the School for the Deaf and School for the Blind grant in Lea County, State Land Commissioner A. D. Crile stated Thursday. He has just approved the applications to drill.

Two of these wells are in proven territory, assuring, it is believed, an increase in royalties for these state institutions.

A new application has been received by the land office to drill on state prison land.—The New Mexican.

ST. LOUIS

The N. F. S. D. Division No. 24 picnic, June 8th, at Rodenberg Park, was a grand success financially. Notably, there were several from Springfield, Ill., who expect us to attend their picnic July 4th. The games were lively and the prizes were beautiful. The soft drinks and lunch counters were well patronized until a later hour.

Eddie Miller and some of his close friends motored sixty miles out in Illinois June 15th, to try the fishing, but they were forced to take shelter on account of a heavy shower. Mr. Miller is considered a good shoe-leather cutter. His firm had to lay him off for a while, as they have moved to a better place.

The Gallaudet Public School had its graduating exercises on June 6th. There were only two who received diplomas: Mary A. Georgeopoulos, and Rudolph H. Hollenberger. Mr. Emil Barth, a member of the School Board, made the presenting address orally. As there was a good crowd of deaf-mutes, there was no interpreter. No one understood what he said, except those who could hear.

Mr. Donald McLean, of Detroit, Mich., who has been with the Ford company for some time, was laid off, because they are overcrowded with accessories. He took advantage of his vacation by going down to the Sunny South, to be with some of his relatives on a farm. While waiting in St. Louis to change busses, he inquired of a taxi driver if he knew where the Gallaudet Club was. The driver said, "Why yes," and took him out to 1041 N. Grant Avenue, where he was happy to find some of his schoolmates.

The progress in repairing and cleaning up the Gallaudet Club has been very slow, on account of the insurance. By this time, they hope to have the room in shape before July 1st, so we can enjoy our indoor amusements. At present, we can only use part of it, so as not to get in the way of the workmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Udell, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Udell, have bought a cozy cottage on Smiley Avenue, Gratiot, Mo., next to their parents. At present the elder Udells are looking for someone to occupy the first floor.

Father's Day, June 15th, was generally celebrated among the deaf. Fathers were made happy in the remembrance of neckties, socks, suspenders, belts, cigars, cigarettes, and what else?

Mr. William Dallan, after being in the Baptist Sanatorium, is at last at home.

Mr. W. H. Schaub, the N. A. D. "Railroad man," has moved to an elaborate apartment at Hamilton and Maple Avenues, where he will be glad to hear from those who intend to go to Buffalo through St. Louis.

The Silent Bereans of the Christian Church on Enright and Union Avenues had a large attendance on Father's Day, June 15th. Mr. Hillard Summers was baptized at 6:30 p.m., in the church, and at 8 p.m. with his mother, Mrs. D. Sanderson and Miss Hensley, joined the church in the auditorium, by Rev. Barclay Meador, the teacher, interpreted by Mrs. O. A. Schneider. Rev. Geo. Campbell, the pastor, gave the right hand of welcome. After the benediction, the hearing and deaf came forward to give their congratulations and best wishes. Rev. Howard, of the Delmar Christian Church, had charge of the evening sermon on "Be kind to one and another." It was one of the most enlightening sermons, which we hope will bear fruit, as everyone should practice to be kind.

Mr. Charles Fry, the Frat secretary and president of the Silent Bereans, took advantage of the low rates to Florida, Ill., to visit his aged parents. He left his wife and two kiddies with his parents for two or three weeks. At present he is doing double work, by working at at Curlees in the daytime; at evening, he does his own housework. We wonder how he likes it!

The Silent Bereans will have their monthly social at the Christian Church parlors, June 27th, engineered by Mrs. Aug. E. Brenner. A good time with games and refreshments are anticipated, so come out and have a good time, regardless of what church you belong to, as everybody is welcome to make themselves at home.

The June 12th issue of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL was beautifully arranged with cuts and a strong write-up on extra good paper. The print shop has done very good work. It is to be hoped that the subscriber will reserve a copy for the future use. Extra copies can be had by writing to the Editor. During the hot days, the JOURNAL will be well-filled by general news and the N. A. D. convention. Why not send in your mite and be a regular subscriber?

In a recent issue by one of our dailies, it said that North Carolina has 132 deaf-mute auto drivers, and not an accident was heard of, and none was arrested. It is no wonder, the deaf are on the alert with their eyes and are considered careful drivers.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

Central Ohio is rejoicing over the good rain that has come, after waiting more than a month. Whether this rain comes in time to save the withering crops remains to be seen. Anyway, it was the very best kind "farm relief for Ohio."

Last week, Mr. Conrad Zorbaugh, who has been an invalid at the Ohio Home for over a year, had the misfortune of falling in his room, breaking the large bone in one hip. As he is almost ninety-two, there's no hope that he can be helped much. He is now in Grant Hospital, Columbus, and we suppose his son, Rev. Chas. Zorbaugh, is looking after him. Rev. Zorbaugh was in Cincinnati attending a conference of Ohio Presbyterian ministers.

Mrs. Walter Wark was the May-June birthday party hostess at the Home, May 28th, with Mrs. Ohlemacher as her guest. The usual chicken dinner was served to all the residents, but a special birthday cake and favors adorned the party table.

The Columbus Ladies' Aid Society picnicked at the Home, June 7th, but found it too chilly to have dinner outside and used the large dining room.

Thursday, June 12th, the school grounds were alive with autos from all sections, coming to take children home. This greatly reduces the work for the teachers, who put the homegoing students on the trains at the Union Station. Some few were left over for the 13th, and Friday at that—but we have heard of no accidents.

Mr. A. B. Greener's grandson, John K. Sherman, graduated June 10th, from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mrs. Robert Thomas and the young man's parents, of LaGrange, Ill., were present to see the exercises, as were also his twin sisters, who are students at Radcliffe College. Mrs. Thomas, after visiting her brother, Mr. George Greener, of Boston, will return to Columbus.

When Mrs. Bessie MacGregor arrived in New York to sail for Scotland, she was met by her sister, Jean, and the two had a day and a night together before Bessie departed. Miss Jean MacGregor was there from Iowa, attending a conference of welfare workers, and thus the two met to say good-bye.

Mrs. Everett Kennedy has resigned her position as associate editor of the Ohio Chronicle, and will devote her time to her home. Mr. Kennedy remains as instructor in printing.

Miss Marie K. Neff, Miss Mary Parker, Miss L. Neff, and Miss H. Jackson, all teachers at the Ohio School, will take summer work. Misses Parker and Neff are among the 3,000 who registered at the Ohio State University for summer courses. Miss Jackson goes to the summer school at Milwaukee, where Principal Abernathy will act as principal of the summer session. Miss Mason is to take a course in the St. Louis school, improving herself in phonetics and "acoustic work." She is not to return to our school in the fall, but will continue studying so, as she told me, "to be of greater help to the deaf."

Mr. and Mrs. Shropshire, daughter and son-in-law, of Akron, brought Mrs. C. C. Neuner from a short visit in Pittsburgh with Mrs. Sawhill, to her home in Columbus, on their way from Akron to Cincinnati.

After a three-year's illness, Mrs. Mike Zimpher (Morrison) was relieved of her suffering June 6th. She passed away, at the age of 73, at the home of a niece in Sidney. Funeral services were attended by many of the Piqua deaf, the services being interpreted by a hearing lady. Many lovely flowers were sent to adorn her casket.

The boys in the painting class finished the job of painting the 2,000 feet of iron fence that surrounds the school yard, on two sides before the close of school. We believe this is the first time our boys have painted this fence.

It seems Akron has a deaf "Pied Piper," as news from there states that a deaf man trapped 115 rats in a place where he is employed. Seems he has been practicing such work for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Austin, formerly of Akron, are now located in Detroit. Mr. Austin has accepted a position as a photo-engraver with a printing firm there.

Mr. Luke E. Clinker, of Toledo, is the proud possessor of medals and a certificate of merit for his workmanship in rebuilding shoes. These were awarded him at the Annual Shoe Repairers' and Dealers' Exposition in Philadelphia last March, where 4,030 pairs of shoes were on display. His medals are for second and third prizes. Mr. Clinker did not learn the trade while attending the Ohio school, but took it up some years after leaving school. He surely is to be congratulated for taking prizes among so many competitors.

The Dayton Division, N. F. S. D., had a grand time at the silver jubilee celebration. The attendance was far greater than had been expected. Some traveled from points two hundred miles distant. Mr. A. Peterson gave a short history of the division, and Messrs. Bates, E. I. Holycross, Augustus, H. Munday, Rev. Waters and a few others gave interesting talks. Sunday Rev. F. C. Smielan held a service for the Frats and their friends and took for his subject "Fraternity." This was largely attended and the talk much appreciated.

Perhaps three hundred attended the celebration, although it had been feared that unemployment would keep many away. From reports, only a few will be able to attend the Buffalo meeting in August.

Mrs. E. I. Holycross, of Piqua, is visiting relatives in Lebanon. This is quite a treat, as she had not seen these relatives for a number of years.

In the Wood County Home, Miss Mary M. Smith, aged 84, died June 5th, where she had lived for forty-three years, the last three being spent in a wheel chair. She was born in Weston and attended the Ohio School. She was much liked by her associates in the Home, as she was well known to them all. She is survived by two nieces.

The Cleveland O. W. L. S. were recently entertained by Mrs. Helena F. Smolk at her pleasant home. Miss L. Andrewjeski, of Akron, was one of the guests.

The Ohio Frats have their eyes cast on Cincinnati for the State convention July 3d to 9th, with the Metropole Hotel as official headquarters.

From a clipping from Sarasota, Fla., headed "Circus Profits Build Beautiful Estate," we learn that John Ringling is building one of the world's finest art museums in that city, costing $20,000,000. It is to be named the John and Mabel Ringling Museum of Art, taking its name from Mr. Ringling and his late wife, who was a sister of Mrs. Walter Wark, of Columbus, and Mrs. Wortman, of St. Petersburg, Fla. That fact makes the lovely art museum of interest to the Ohio deaf.

"Beneath the dome of this quiet nooked museum there is being built a crypt in which will be laid the bodies of its patrons—Mabel Ringling, who has preceded him in death, and the one-time circus wagon driver, whose shrine is beauty."

The late Mrs. Ringling was an extensive traveler, and visited all parts of the world, gathering art treasures.

Mrs. LeRoy Mockler, of Bryan, sent the following description of a table made by Samuel Tong, of Wabash, Ind. Samuel with his brother and sister attended the Ohio school some twenty-five years ago.

Mr. Tong made an inlaid table consisting of exquisite mosaics into which went 12,000 pieces of wood representing forty-nine different kinds of trees. It now stands a wreck in the law office of A. F. Bungel of Toledo, O. It was valued at $10,000 to $25,000 by connoisseurs. It represents two years of hard work. The wood used in the design, two pheasants facing each other, the extreme end of the top, in the center of which is a butterfly, was sent from all parts of the world and is of every shade of tan and brown in addition to green, black, white and yellow. All the wood is natural in color none has been stained. Each of the four corners are different from the rest. The table is of refectory type, with its two supports also beautifully inlaid.

Several weeks ago, Mr. Tong left Wabash for Detroit with the table strapped to his auto, hoping to interest Henry Ford in buying it. Several miles west of Toledo on the Chicago pike a truck and Mr. Tong's car collided, wrecking the table. The damages will cause Mr. Tong months of labor.

To have his work so wrecked must have been a great disappointment to Mr. Tong and his friends hope he can soon have another one to show.

The Bread-fruit Tree

The breadfruit tree is a native of the Southern Pacific islands. It attains a height of thirty or forty feet, and is often limbless for half this height. Its fruit, which is generally oval and about the size of a child's head, is at first green, later brown, and lastly yellow. It is six inches or more in diameter, and hangs from the smaller branches by short, thick stalks singly, or in clusters of two or three. The rough rind is irregularly marked. The unripe fruit contains a milky substance, and when in the edible stage it resembles fresh bread.

The common practice in the South Sea Islands is to cut each fruit into three or four pieces, and take out the core; then to place heated stones in the bottom of a hole dug in the earth, cover them with green leaves, and upon this to place a layer of the fruit; then stones and leaves are laid on alternately till the hole is nearly filled, when leaves and dirt to the depth of several inches are spread over all. In about an hour the breadfruit is ready; the outside is nicely browned and the inner part presents a white, or yellowish, pulpy substance, slightly resembling wheat bread.

SAMUEL FRANKENHELM, Treasurer.
168 West 86th Street, New York City.

He had garnered in just $370.85 in less than six weeks, that is, since the last report, thanks to the generosity of the several organizations named in the above list, which contributed considerable sums out of their treasuries.

We were equally grateful to the children of the Hartford School for the Deaf, who chipped in dimes and nickels. "Every little helps," is our invariable motto.

We are confident of going "over the top" as the goal is coming in sight, but the stream of coins and dollar bills into our coffers should not be stopped till the very day the N. A. D. convention meets at Buffalo. What money we will have on hand will be used to beautify the ground by the De l'Epee memorial.

The statue is now stored in one of the yards of the monument makers, having been released from bond by the United States Government. It was made in Paris by the American sculptor, Mr. Hannan, and was brought over on a steamer of the Atlantic Transport Line. From the port of New York, it was transhipped to Buffalo by the New York Central Lines.

The pedestal of Barre granite has been completed and will be set up early in July. A complete report of all contributions lasting seventeen years will be submitted to certified public accountants and published some time after the convention at Buffalo is adjourned.

SAMUEL FRANKENHELM,
Chairman-Treasurer.

DETROIT

A movie social was given at the Cadillac Association of the Deaf, on May 31st. Mr. Wm. Greenbaum was the chairman of the event. A beautiful set of dishes and table silverware were raffled off at the club. Mr. Archie Nerrod, formerly of Louisiana, won the dishes. Being a bachelor himself, he forwarded them to his mother. The silverware went to Fred Allera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allera. A large crowd was there.

Mrs. John Brousseau, of Bay City, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller for several days. She was also a visitor at the C. A. D.

Mrs. Mabel Tyende, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allera is the proud mother of a baby daughter, born on May 25th. Mr. and Mrs. Allera are proud of their new granddaughter. She was baptized two weeks ago. Fred Allera and his wife were godparents.

Mrs. Alice LaMotte, of Chicago, Ill., was guest of Mrs. Irma Ryan for several days and enjoyed her visit at the clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Braithwaite, of Windsor, took Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ball and Mrs. Sadows to visit in Chatham and attended the service while Rev. Fisher was there, on June 8th. About forty deaf people were present.

Mrs. W. H. Gould and Mr. George J. Pepper, of London, were visitors at the D. A. D., on June 14th.

Mrs. M. Holm returned from an enjoyable visit with her friends, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Rountree, of Chicago. Mrs. Frances McSparrin and children have gone to Illinois, to stay on her father-in-law's farm all summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Grow took Mr. and Mrs. Fred Altson to East Tawas to find a good place for fishing.

They stopped at Cholly Lawrence's cottage in Bay City, on May 30th. Mr. Cholly Lawrence will have a big picnic on his lot on July 4th. Good games and prizes, and a chicken dinner will be on sale. Everybody is welcome.

Mrs. C. Sadows has been visiting Miss Flora McMillan and her brother. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Riberdy took her to Dillon, Ont., to visit their brother there.

Mr. Russell Martina, of Buffalo, N. Y., was a visitor at the D. A. D. recently.

An outing will be had by the Service League of St. John's Episcopal Church at Belle Isle on June 28th, Saturday.

The annual picnic will be held by the Catholic Association of the Deaf at Groose Pointe, near Six Mile Road, on July 27th.

The Cadillac Association of the Deaf will have a big picnic at Gotts-werth's place at Groose Isle on July 4th. Information notices will be given later.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McMillan had a double birthday party out at Algonac, Mich., on May 30th, where Ed is building a new cottage. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. J. Menzies, Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith, of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. S. Goth, Mr. and Mrs. McLennan, Mr. and Mrs. Gotzinger, Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Franke, Mr. and Mrs. Whetstone, Mr. Stustman, Mrs. Adams' sister with her ten children, Mr. and Mrs. Luchow and Mr. N. Line. A good time was had by all.

On May 30th, there was a picnic at the school for the deaf at Flint, held by the N. F. S. D. Quite a crowd was there. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kenney took Mr. and Mrs. I. Hey-manson there. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bourcier and Mr. Underhill were there.

There will be an outing by excursion boat to Tashmoo Park by the D. A. D., on June 29th. Tickets are on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Merchant left for Boston, Mass., last Monday and expect to get work there. Mr. Merchant was from Boston. His parents moved here while he was a young boy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall, formerly of Indiana, are mourning over their son, who was killed in an auto race at Indianapolis on May 30th. His brother was seriously hurt.

Miss Agnes Perliskey was married to Max Schieber at the Catholic church, by Father Kaufman on May 31st. Congratulations.

Mr. George Priester, president of the D. A. D., left for his home town in Montana.

MRS. LUCY MAY.

The Capital City

The last meeting of the National Literary Society was held at North-east Masonic Temple, Wednesday night, June 18th, with Mrs. Roy J. Stewart presiding.

The stellar attraction was three gentlemen, Rev. Mr. Bryant, Rev. Mr. Tracy and Mr. R. J. Stewart, and Miss Alice L. Pearson, of Nebraska. Mr. Bryant gave a thrilling delivery, relating how the clerks of the big train stations are compelled to live under the strict rules of the train officials. Mr. Bryant is a witty talker. Mr. Tracy was next on "Prohibition." He acknowledged that he supported it firmly, but he thinks it would take many years yet to take effect. Mr. Roy J. Stewart gave points against the saloons, but believes that Prohibition is not possible.

Miss Alice L. Pearson, a charming young hearing lady, an old childhood friend of Mrs. Roy J. Stewart in Nebraska, was introduced. She has been a teacher of the Girls' Reserve Organization in Northern Michigan the past winter and will resume her duties again next fall. She is an expert sign-maker, telling how the Reserve girls had a spirit of interest, and how the organization has helped them in problems of every day life. While in city she is the guest of Mrs. Stewart. Mr. C. C. Quinley gave the topics of the day.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Isaacson, secretary of the Literary Society, gave a declaration on "Good-bye, friends, until next fall."

Adjournment was taken

NEW YORK

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

On Saturday evening, June 21st—the longest night of the year of 1930, the Fanwood Alumni Association staged or rather held a "500" and whist party in the Guild Room of St. Ann's Church.

There were over one hundred present. The admission was one dollar for those playing and fifty cents for non-players. The prizes were worth the admission. The finest was a parlor lamp, which was to be awarded to the player who made the highest bid at "500." It was won by Mr. William Renner who bid "10 no trumps" and made it.

The other prizes were costly fountain pens and pencils from the famous Waterman Manufacturing Co., silk umbrella and lots other fine things, sixteen prizes altogether.

The winners in the "500" were:—

Ladies—First, Mrs. M. W. Loew; second, Mrs. A. Stern; third, Mrs. Joseph Peters; fourth, Mrs. Moses; fifth, Mrs. Samuel Lowenherz.

Gentlemen—First, Lester Cohen; second, A. A. Cohen; third, Anthony Capelle; fourth, Mr. Juan; fifth, I. Lovitch.

There were only two tables of whist. The writer failed to obtain the names of the winners.

Mr. Frank Nimmo had charge of the arrangements, and all through the evening, besides seeing to the games, also supervised the refreshments.

Though it was the first evening of summer, there was no discomfort throughout the playing, and to make it more pleasant fine punch was passed around between games, and afterwards ice-cream and cake in plenty. Taken all in all, Mr. Frank Nimmo and his aids deserve praise for the pleasant evening afforded to those in attendance.

The play started over eight o'clock and was not over till midnight.

President William H. Rose was present with a happy smile, so was Treasurer Miss Myra L. Barrager.

Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson, of Winnipeg, Man., were present. Mr. Tomlinson is an instructor in the Winnipeg Institution for the Deaf. Mrs. Tomlinson is the youngest sister of Mrs. Kent. Many of those present who knew her as Miss Louise Turner at the Fanwood school were glad to meet her. The Tomlinsons brought their two children to New York with them.

RICHARD R. TWEED DEAD

Mr. Richard Reuben Tweed, of 191 Sumpter St., Brooklyn, died of carditis on Sunday, June 15th. The funeral was held at Feeney's Mortuary Chapel, Broadway and Sumpter St., on Wednesday, June 18th, at 1:30 p.m. Besides the relatives of the deceased several of his deaf friends were present at the obsequies, which were conducted by Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock, Vicar of St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes. Interment was in Holy Trinity Cemetery, a few blocks from the Tweed residence. Mr. Tweed was a member of the Brooklyn Guild of Deaf-Mutes.

Richard R. Tweed was born at Hartford, Ct., on February 11th, 1869, and was in his sixty-second year at the time of his death.

He was admitted as a pupil at the New York (Fanwood) Institution on September 2d, 1875, graduating in June, 1892. For a great many years worked successfully as a printer, which trade he learned at the Fanwood trade school.

About four years ago, he retired from active work, on account of sickness. While he had been continuously ailing, his death was unexpected. He died in his sleep sometime early on June 15th.

He leaves a widow, one son, and four daughters to mourn his passing away.

Mrs. George T. Sanders, of Philadelphia, Pa., has been staying in town the past week, with her daughter, Dorothy. The historian of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, is writing an autobiography of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, and Mrs. Sanders furnished valuable data by the loan of her collection of old letters. While at the company's office, she took opportunity of the invitation to test the television apparatus. The picture of a man was projected on a small screen and Mrs. Sanders read his lips and carried on a conversation for two minutes. The man was at the other laboratory of the company, two and a half miles away, and replies to his questions were made through the telephone.

Some time ago it was stated in this column that the Jack Seltzers had moved, and near the Fanwood school. The fact is that before they moved they lived more near the Fanwood school than they do now, which is anywhere not very far, only a few minutes walk. By the way, the Seltzers have a boy of about five, who takes after his dad—a chip of the old block. Many times he has been at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League.

Last week the Federation of Hard-of-Hearing held their convention in the Hotel Roosevelt, this city.

H. A. D.

The Hebrew Tabernacle on West 161st Street, was thronged with parents and friends of the Fanwood Religious School on Tuesday evening, May 27th, the occasion being the annual Confirmation and closing exercises conducted under the auspices of the H. A. D.

The entire class acquitted itself creditably, thanks to the efforts of its teachers, Rabbi Nash, Mr. Lubin and Mrs. A. A. Cohn.

The H. A. D. gave its closing social of the summer season in the form of a combination "500," whist and burco, at the Community Center last Sunday evening, June 1st. A preliminary "movie" kept the large audience in good humor until the start of the games proper. The committee awarded handsome utility boxes to the winner at each table.

A surprise luncheon was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Schultz, in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary, at the Boulevard Luncheonette on Friday, May 30th. Joe and Bertha each came alone, unaware of each other's presence, and so were taken completely aback by the unexpected demonstration staged for them. The affair was nicely managed by Mrs. William Kriger and Miss Kate Ross, who presented the happy couple with a substantial cash gift from present and absent friends.

Robert B. Maginnis is at Pottersville, Warren Co., N. Y., with his family for the summer months. They had six deaf friends for over Decoration Day. They were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Donahue, and his brother, Mr. Donahue, and Mr. Arnold Meier. They motored up there, and had a good time playing golf, bowling, ball, etc.

On June 6th, Friday night, the Lutheran Sunday Class pupils had a little party for closing the school during the summer vacation. Some ice-cream, cakes, candies, etc., were served. Some handsome prizes were given to the winners in the games. The pupils enjoyed it very much.

Elias Pachter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol. E. Pachter, and Eliza Collins hitchhiked from New York to Bantam Lake, Ct., a distance of about 100 miles each way, or a total distance of about 230 miles from Brooklyn to Bantam Lake and back again.

Mr. Henry Hecht's mother passed away on Sunday night, June 8th, in her seventy-fourth year. The funeral took place on Thursday morning, June 12th. Interment was in Mt. Judah Cemetery.

Mr. Ten Eyck Litchfield, of Brooklyn, has been critically ill the past two months, and has been unable to attend the various social gatherings of the deaf.

Fred Louis Hoffman and Margarita A. Davis were married at St. Ann's Church on Saturday afternoon, June 7th, by the Rev. Guilbert C. Braddock. Mr. Hoffman is a recent graduate of Fanwood, and an artist by profession. Mrs. Hoffman was formerly of Boston.

Norman Magnus, Samuel and Israel Liberman and Felix Fell spent a week-end at Niagara Falls. They admired the wonderful scenery.

Mrs. J. W. Grossman, of Bayonne, N. J., has gone to Belmar, N. J., for a two-weeks vacation, with her sister-in-law.

A new baby boy arrived to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Rowe, Jr., of River Edge, N. J., on June 18th. Mrs. Rowe and baby are doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron H. Halsey have gone to Nantucket, Mass., for the summer.

Arne Olsen is working on the Boothbay Register, a weekly newspaper published at Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

Mrs. R. N. Stevenson is at present enjoying the sylvan delights of Walden, N. Y.

Miss Elizabeth Hilda Spang, now in Minneapolis, writes that her father died on the 8th of June.

NEW JERSEY

Many old friends wended their way to surprise Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Redman upon their thirteenth wedding anniversary, June 14th, under the arrangement of Miss Emma Ward. The Redmans were remembered with a handsome tea wagon. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bradley, Mrs. Gus Matzart, Mrs. Richard Erdman, Messrs. McInturf and Frederickson, of Newark; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beck, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. George Witschief, of Bloomfield; Mr. and Mrs. Scheiffer, of Glen Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Shaw, of Jersey City; Misses Emma Ward, Frieda Heuser, Anna Klepper, Theresa Leitner, Mrs. William Atkinson, Mrs. Menow, Robert Bennett and Henry Nightingale, of Paterson; Marion and John Grant, of Passaic.

Plans are under way for the Paterson Silent Social Club outing to Asbury Park on Sunday, August 17th. Mrs. Rose Redman is chairlady. De Luxe bus will arrive at St. Boniface Hall at 7 o'clock in the morning and will leave for Asbury Park at 7:30. Very comfortable bus and an enjoyable time for every one who will come along with the Paterson Silent Social Club. The round trip is $2.50.

SEATTLE

Mr. Claire Reeves has purchased a ranch of about eight acres near Yakima, and went to spend a couple of weeks there to harvest his cherry crop. Mrs. Reeves was not able to accompany him, as she had to go to the hospital to have her tonsils removed, and also to undergo an operation on the nose. She has come through successfully. Mr. Reeves will be back the first of July, and with his wife, will celebrate in Seattle on the third, his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, for which invitations have been issued. The Reeves will leave soon after the Fourth to settle on their ranch. They have been a pleasant and friendly couple and a great help in our social gatherings, and they will be greatly missed when they leave our city. The best wishes of all that their ranch will be a success go with them. Mrs. Reeves' mother will remain and manage the Argonne Apartments.

Mr. J. C. Howard is for the third time a happy grandpa, a grandson having been born on May 27th. He is the son of Mr. Howard's oldest daughter, Betty, and has been named Robert Kent. Mr. Howard states to inquiring friends that baby and grandpa are doing well.

The Hanson house never looked handsomer when it was brand new than it does now, with its shining coat of gray paint applied by Mr. Howard. He has certainly done a fine and first-class job, and we can recommend him as a painter. He has done many little extra repair jobs also.

Miss Lillian Hughes, a Co-ed sister of Mrs. Edward Miland, has obtained a job at the university library on the campus, and will work her way in school there next year. She is very pleased with her new job, and has reason to be, for jobs in the campus library go only to students of outstanding ability.

Miss Marie Wharton, a niece of Dr. J. L. Smith of the Minnesota School, is in town and has registered for the summer school at the university. She has been teaching in Minnesota for some years.

Mrs. Jennie Hammond and her daughter, Mrs. Garretson, of Tacoma, are attending the annual convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs this week in Seattle. The delegates are quartered at the various sorority houses.

Robert Bronson is using the month that his mill is shut down in clearing his quarter-acre tract in the north, outside the city limits. He is saving a cord of logs for our fire-place next winter, and will get a truck to bring it over later in the summer, when it is well dried out. We drove over with Robert, Paul Hoelscher and Mrs. Smith, the other day to see the place, and thought it a desirable location.

Homer Jones, the husband of Alice Hanson, is now in New York, and the young couple have moved to a large flat. Mr. Jones will work for the summer on the Encyclopedia of the Social Sciences with Alice. For next winter, he has accepted a teaching position at Rutgers College, New Jersey, as he can commute from New York. Rutgers is a small but very old and well established men's college. It has in connection with it, the New Jersey College for Women. Alice has a month's vacation this summer, beginning in the middle of August, and she and her bridegroom will spend it visiting in Iowa and Seattle.

The Seattle Star and the Fort Lewis Avining & Tent Company together gave prizes for their annual fifty-two mile hike around Lake Washington. Nineteen hundred men and women took part, the women starting from the civic auditorium at about eleven o'clock at night last Friday, and the men getting off about an hour or so later from the same place. The prizes were two firsts for men and women of two hundred and fifty dollars each, and two seconds of one hundred dollars each, totaling seven hundred dollars. L. O. Christenson, Robert Bronson, Joe Kirschbaum, and Henssy Cookson took part in this year's hike. Mr. Christenson went as far as Bothell Junction before giving up. Mr. Bronson not quite so far, and Mr. Kirschbaum got as far as Renton. We do not know where Mr. Cookson dropped out. The first of the hikers to reach the finish line was a woman, Robert thinks he did not have the proper shoes, and may try again next year.

Mr. August Koberstein gave an account of his California trip at the P. S. A. D. meeting last Saturday, and brought greetings from friends down south. Those he mentioned meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Spieler, Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. Larson, Mr. Belser, and Mrs. Smith.

Sam Abrahamson was also at the meeting. He had come up from California to see his mother, and expected to go back again later.

Mr. O'Leary, of Spokane, was expected to address the meeting, and to drive here with Mr. Skoglund. But on Saturday, word was received that they could not get away, as they had been unable to get substitutes to take their places. A good many were disappointed. We had expected them to dinner yesterday, and had a few friends invited to meet them. But Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe, Oscar Sanders, J. C. Howard, and Ed. Martin sat down to dinner with us without them.

J. C. Howard and Oscar Sanders were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Holcombe, at Manette on the 8th, and had much to say of the beautiful location of the home of their hosts. It is directly on the water front.

THE HANSONS.

CHICAGO

Cards were mailed out to all the Catholic deaf to attend mass at the Catholic deaf club chapel Sunday, June 15th, at 8:30, instead of Sunday, the 22d, as Father Joseph E. O'Brien has made preparations to attend a meeting of the Catholic Educational Association to be held at New Orleans, La., June 23d to 25th. He is on the program as a speaker on the subject "Management, Location and Needs."

Mr. and Mrs. F. Neesam, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pleasant, of Delavan, Wis., and others attended the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Craig, at their home at Oak Park, Ill., Sunday. The bride and groom of a quarter century were presented a bag of silver coins and an electric clock. About seventy-three couples were present. Mr. and Mrs. Craig are well known in Delavan, being summer residents of Delavan Lake for the past ten years.

Mathias Rickett, about fifty years old, died last week. He was the beloved husband of Myria (nee Kelly) and fond father of four children. The funeral was held from St. Joseph's Catholic Church at Elgin, Ill., thence to Mount Hope Cemetery. He followed the occupation of a baker, being the main support of his entire family.

Rev. George Flick has taken temporary lease of a church on Wilson Avenue, near Evanston Avenue, five miles distant from the heart of the city. The rental is fifty dollars a month, including the free use of a reception room.

Mrs. Clara Belford went to St. Louis, June 8th, to attend the Frats' picnic. She spent two weeks with her mother. After that, she returned last Tuesday and reports a glorious time. Mrs. G. Hyman, superintendent of the Home for Aged Deaf, gave an interesting talk on her trip to Jacksonville, Ill., at the Pas-a-Pas Club hall Friday evening, June 13th.

A card from Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Miner states that they have broken up housekeeping and gone to Geneva Lake, Wis., for the summer. They enjoy boat riding, fishing and the pleasant lake breeze.

Murnen, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Brien, has returned from a pleasant stay of two weeks on Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown's farm in Wisconsin.

Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hosea Hooper, has returned from a delightful trip to Texas.

Mrs. M. E. Carey, nurse at the Kansas State School for the Deaf, is spending the summer in Jacksonville, Ill., visiting Superintendent and Mrs. D. T. Cloud.

Mrs. Marion Hayes, a teacher of the Oklahoma deaf school, stopped to attend the services at the Methodist Headquarters Sunday. She had come up to see her daughter graduate at the Jennings School in Aurora, Ill. She also visited the Sayles, her former associates at the Oklahoma school, for a few days. Together they called on Mrs. Hasenstab, Grace and Joyce at their cottage at Lake Delavan, Wis.

Mrs. Wm. Garwood, of LaPorte, is visiting with her sister in Englewood. She was at the Methodist service and met her friends.

Ted Haskell took Mrs. Joyce, Hasenstab, Taylor and her baby, Ted, in his auto to Lake Delavan, Wis. Joyce stays with Grace and their mother at the cottage. Her husband follows Tuesday, and will then spend his two weeks' vacation there.

Mayme N., daughter of E. W. Carlson, gave a party to her Sunday School class in the M. E. Headquarters, Saturday afternoon and evening. A fine supper was also partaken of. Messdames Lathrop, Reynolds, and Elmes served at tables. The room was decorated for the occasion.

A pretty wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Luella Kelley, at Darien, Wis., when one of her triplet daughters, Miss Hester, was united in marriage to Royal Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Jones, a deaf couple.

Miss Emma Maser's sister surprised her by coming from Nebraska last week. The visitor spent one week in taking in the sights and wonders of the big city.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Wynn, Mr. and Mrs. L. Milbrou and L. R. Bates made up a party that spent a most pleasant afternoon in the beautiful Lincoln Park last Sunday.

W. R. Thomas took a advantage of the low-rate excursion to his native state, Alabama, last week, by running down and spending a few days with friends and relatives.

FANWOOD

Prof. Bristol, the inventor of the Audiophone, used in our Department of Eurythmics and Auricular Training, passed away on June 18th. He spent considerable time in making this instrument suitable for our purposes, besides keeping up a lively interest in the work accomplished with it among the pupils.

Prof. Bristol was born on July 5th, 1895, in Waterbury, Ct. He was a pioneer in the manufacture of recording instruments in America, and the inventor of the Bristol phone, an instrument which synchronizes sound and action in motion pictures. He had an international reputation as a scientist and inventor.

During the many years which he devoted to his scientific work, Mr. Bristol developed a complete line of recording instruments adapted to meet almost every industrial requirement. His inventions included instruments for measuring pressure, temperature, electricity, speed and time.

In 1915 he conceived the idea of recording sound and action simultaneously. The invention and production of the Bristol phone followed. To perfect this instrument he spent nearly $1,000,000 in the construction of a fully equipped motion picture laboratory and studio in Waterbury.

Prof. Bristol matriculated at Stevens Institute of Technology at Hoboken in 1880, and graduated in 1884, with an M.E. degree.

He founded the Bristol Company in 1899 to manufacture and market his inventions. He held many medals, awarded him at various expositions for his inventions. Among these were the John Scott Legacy medal, which he received from the Franklin Institute at Philadelphia in 1890, and one awarded at the Sesqui-centennial at Philadelphia four years ago.

There has been much activity around the boys' playground the past week while fleets of big coal trucks have been busy delivering loads of coal and filling the storage bins with approximately 1600 tons.

Jacob Asinof, of Philadelphia, Pa., was a Monday visitor. He graduated from Fanwood in 1917. At school he was in the sign painting class, and has since been able to make a good living with his paint brush. At present he is plate designer with a pottery firm.

Mr. Odie W. Underhill and wife, both teachers at the North Carolina school at Morganton, were callers here Monday morning. They had motored down from West Point, where they had been staying for a week, visiting their son, who is a cadet at the Military Academy.

The number of pupils remaining at school will be much reduced about July 1st, when sixteen girls will go to Mr. Edwin Gould's camp at Summit Park, Spring Valley, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Davis have gone to visit at Annville, Pa., Mrs. Davis' home town.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Rev. Father George Burger, a Catholic priest, has been holding a week's service in Syracuse, for the deaf members of that denomination. He comes from Rochester.

Quite a large number of Syracuse deaf went to Rome, N. Y., on June 14th, to attend a meeting of the Rome Alumni Association. Mr. Meyer-shoffer, of Boonville, was elected president of the association to succeed Carl Ayling, of Syracuse, who had been president for a number of years. Messrs. and Mesdames Carl Ayling, John Sears, Carl Strahl, Robert Conley, and Mrs. Clyde Houze, of Syracuse, were among the one hundred or more present.

H. W. Whitmore, of LaPorte, Ind., is now in California and will remain there several weeks.

He has remembered Mr. and Mrs. George Root with souvenir cards at each stopping place on his tour, since he was in Syracuse in May.

Mrs. Herbert C. Merrill was again in Rochester with her new grandson, after having spent a few weeks at home in Syracuse. She returned home on June 16th.

Mr. Fred Young, formerly of Auburn, is employed on a farm near Syracuse.

It has been decided by the Ladies' Guild of Syracuse to hold their annual picnic on July 19th, at Elmwood Park. The deaf public is cordially invited to attend and help make merry with the ladies and their families.

The Frats of Syracuse have set August 10th, as the date for their annual picnic. It will probably be held at Elmwood Park.

The Franklin Auto Works of Syracuse has closed for a month and Messrs. Clyde Houze and Robert Conley are playing the role of gentlemen of leisure. Quite a few of the other deaf of Syracuse are on the idle list.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, of Cortland, are spending a few weeks, visiting at Rochester and other nearby places. They may move to Rochester in the fall and make that city their future home. Mr. Smith has retired from business and is taking life easy.

Mrs. Grace Wasse, of Syracuse, was called to Utica two weeks ago, by the death of her little three-year-old grandchild, who was accidentally hit on the head by a neighbor's automobile and later died from a fractured skull.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE DEAF

Organized 1880 Incorporated 1900

St. Louis to Buffalo

Mr. H. C. Carson, General Passenger Agent of the New York Central Lines at St. Louis, sent out the following circular:—

We will be very glad indeed to make any Pullman reservations that you may desire and will do all possible to make your trip a most pleasant and comfortable one.

For reservations or further information address either Mr. Carson at 320 North Broadway, St. Louis, Mo., or William H. Schaub, 1019 Hamilton Boulevard, St. Louis, Mo.

Deaf Couple Married in Impressive Ceremony

The home of Mrs. W. O. Tison on South Virginia Avenue, Gainesville, Fla., was the scene of a pretty and impressive wedding ceremony on June 7th, which united her daughter, Miss Martha Jane Tison, to Mr. Robert Emmet Kelly, of Jacksonville. Rev. Frank E. Philpott, assistant pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of St. Cloud, officiated.

The reception hall and living room were simply but beautifully decorated with a profusion of Shasta daisies, gladioli in shades of cream and ivory, and delicate sprays of plumose fern, forming a charming setting for the wedding guests. An improvised altar was arranged in the living room and decorated with tall cathedral candles and the chosen blossoms, with an old-fashioned mirror suspended, in which the beauty of the setting was reflected.

The bride entered from the reception hall with the bride-room and they were joined at the altar by the minister, where the impressive ring ceremony was performed.

Immediately after the ceremony, an informal reception was held, during which Mr. Kelly and his bride were showered with hearty congratulations. The beautiful large wedding cake, iced and hand-somely decorated in white and surmounted with valley lilies and maidenhair fern, in which stood a miniature bride and groom, was cut and served with an ice course.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly left afterwards for Jacksonville, where they will be at home to their many friends and relatives at 45 West Fourth Street.

Loss of Fingers Wins Deaf-Mute $35,000 Verdict

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 12.—Deprived of his only substitute for speech Natale Carnaglia, twenty-five-year-old deaf-mute of this city, won a $35,000 verdict in Supreme Court here today to compensate him for the loss of his fingers in an explosion at the plant of the Palatine Aniline Company.

Carnaglia, who has asked $100,000 was burned by flaming liquid. His face was mutilated, his sight impaired and his fingers so badly burned, they had to be amputated. The trial before Justice Graham Witschick was long and arduous and Carnaglia proved a stumbling block for lawyers, who were unable to get testimony from him except by a complicated system of signals.

When Carnaglia took the stand the questions asked by Philip Mylod and John E. Mack, of the plaintiff, and Otis Rockwood, for the defense, were transmitted to him in sign language by his brother, Thomas. Slowly he would answer by the signals, he mastered with the aid of a chart. While it took many minutes for him to reply to questions, few of his answers were satisfactory. Rather than go through the tedious procedure too frequently, the lawyers had to be content with the little information Carnaglia gave them.

Carnaglia, who won the verdict after the jury had been out five hours, contested that he was using a public right of way between the chemical plant and adjoining property, upon which he was doing a paint job. The company asserted that he had trespassed in the alleyway and had no legal right to be on the plant grounds when the chemical exploded.—Herald-Tribune.

His First Party in Fifty Years

Once more again, the next day a genial, jolly and chubby bachelor, known in the Capitol City deafdom by the name of Louis P. Schulte, spoke-up gleefully to some of his friends:—"Yesterday was my birthday." "Oh, you beat us," sighed they.

The Woods, a young couple living down in the suburbs of Woodridge, realized that something ought to be done to have the tables turned on that wise and clever fellow, as Mr. Schulte thought himself to be about keeping his birthday date from being known all over the nation's capital.

Since the said bachelor is rooming at the house where he can view the beautiful and hilly woods, smell sweetly the fragrance of flowers floating about and breathe always of the fresh air surrounding the place, the Woods decided that these abundances he enjoys were not all he could have, but another one as well—a surprise birthday party for Mr. Schulte was the plan.

Later, the bachelor was made known that a visitor was calling while he was out, and would return on the next Saturday at about 8:15 p.m. "Now I remember, my nephew, of Pittsburgh, promised to see me any time, and surely I will stay for him," answered Mr. Schulte.

"Wow, what an ideal trap that wise and clever bachelor will be in!" remarked happily by the party makers.

So the thick plot began its works on May 24th, at eight o'clock, when Mr. Louis P. Schulte seated himself in the living room of the house of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, waiting for the call, and later the house-dog barked, barked and barked and wagged his tail vigorously, which caught the attention of the waiting bachelor, and meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nicol and Mr. Roger Scott were beating the path around the house to the rear as a rendezvous of the party-guests.

A flood of light busted outward from the front door with the bachelor looking about for someone. These men ducked themselves away quickly, leaving the lady behind. The best way she did, was to enter the house calmly with a bouquet of roses in her hand, and luckily the bachelor believed that a visitor was calling on the lady of the house, since she is her neighbor.

"Bark, bark, bark," that house-dog gave out and once again, that bachelor sprang to the door and came back saying to the dog—"Confound you, nobody is at the door." Surely there was, if only the dog could talk, for Mrs. William Cooper, Miss Jennie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Courtney, Mr. Robert Werdig, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Isaacson, Mrs. John Wortman and Mr. Harry Carr were coming up to the rendezvous.

All then assembled at the front door, and "bark, bark, bark!" was heard in the house again, and again Mr. Schulte went to the door and opened it only to see a dozen pairs of eyes gleaming at him by human beings with cheery smiles, pushing themselves in upon him as if they were grabbing a fullback in a football game, and showering gifts into his arms as if they had just fallen down from the sky.

"First party for me in my life of fifty years!" announced the surprised bachelor, amid applause and cheers by the guests for having the most successful surprise party ever engineered in the capital's deafdom.

The gifts—well, for sure, he opened the largest bundle, so as to get it out of the way, as the room looked smaller with the same. Unpacking it, he found the largest greeting card, measuring 9½ feet long and 5 feet wide, printed in letters spelling, "Happy Birthday" with real smokes—cigars—scattered over on the board, with the best wishes for one smoke reserved particularly for the year of 1930. The same was then hung on the wall for the night, after which came a box found to consist of the bachelor's misplaced things, such as shoe-polish, shaving set, soap, etc., which were picked up by two little children of the woods. "Oh, he needs a help-mate!" exclaimed the onlookers and then flowers came up with a hope, the bachelor would woo a girlie before long, and then cigars, yes, of course, handkerchiefs and pairs of hosiery—the bachelor loves to have as extras and more to mention, but they were all "dearies" to the bachelor's comforts and enjoyment.

The evening was spent up with plenty of merry and laughing games, winding up with a big chocolate cake cut up, and refreshments were then passed around after which a "good night," with a lingering memory of the funniest party the guests ever had.

Talkies Teaching Speech to Girl, Deaf Since Birth

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 26.—With the advent of the talking pictures, Miss Helen Zabitch, 26 years old and deaf and mute since birth, wrote to C. E. White, manager of her favorite moving picture theater, protesting that in banishing silent films he had deprived her of her only amusement.

White called in an electrician and had him make an instrument. Now with special headphones that press against her mastoid bones, Miss Zabitch attends the talking pictures. Through the vibration she feels, she appreciates the music and is learning the sound of the English language by comparing the actors' pantomime with the sound of spoken words she hears through the receivers.
